

Something to Shout About!

Before Visual Planner, your production planners probably did a lot of shouting. When they didn't have the right information to hand or the means to make rational decisions, their life was stressful and frustrating, and that's no way to manage your production planning! Now you'll really give your production planners something to shout about when you introduce them to Visual Planner.

Fast, Achievable Production Planning

With Visual Planner you are able to prepare achievable production plans - fast! Because Visual Planner allows multiple methods of scheduling, including automatic and simple drag and drop, you'll save valuable time. Time which can be better spent elsewhere on the shop floor.

Real-time Information at your Fingertips

And because Visual Planner is fully integrated into Exact Macola Progression and ES packages, the information you need to make the right decisions is at your finger tips. From Visual Planner's Graphical Planning Screen, you can see real-time information which includes:

- Customer orders
- Stock availability
- Captured BOM
- Trial kit lists
- Order properties
- Progress on production completed
- Production reports ... and much more

When you are ready to start production, Visual Planner can help you confirm all the components needed are available before releasing orders onto the shop floor. If materials, employees, or machines aren't available, Visual Planner's flexibility allows you to quickly rearrange production to keep things running smoothly. When you're happy with your production plan, a click of a button is all that's needed to write it back to your Macola system. It's as simple as that!

So, if you want to give your Production Planners something to shout about, contact Lynq today on +44 (0) 1329 800162 to arrange your online demonstration. Alternatively, you can email sales@lynq.co.uk or visit www.lynq.co.uk for more information.
